1905 to 1960 -- These have been good years for Fort Wayne Bible College, years of growth, development, and progress. In 1905 there was just one building to house all facilities. Now there are six.

The Administration Building, now known as Schultz Hall, was first. Bethany Hall was built in 1929 as a dormitory for women. The expansion of the music department led to the erection of Founder's Memorial Hall in 1941. Growth continued during the war years, and in 1945 Providence Hall was added. Residence Hall, which furnished faculty apartments, and Leightner Hall were acquired shortly thereafter.

In 1949 the administration offices of the college were moved to Bethany Hall, and Schultz Hall became the dormitory for men.

SOUTH CAMPUS

An attractive modern library will set the architectural pattern for the south campus development. Being conveniently located on the east side of the proposed quadrangle, the new building will be away from the noise of the streets and be ideally situated for study. It will not only enhance the south campus, but it will meet an imperative need for better and larger library services. Upon completion it will have the capacity for 80,000-100,000 volumes. Recessed cases in the lobby to exhibit cultural curios from many lands will be another feature to lend interest and educational value for students and visitors.

As the growth of the school and financial resources permit, a classroom and administration building, a student union building, a chapel, a home for the president, and dormitories for both men and women will be added. Furthermore, the need for expanded parking areas and an athletic field can be met in the spacious facilities provided by the south campus.

THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD

The central theme in Scripture is Jesus Christ, who said, "I am the light of the world" (John 8:12). Through the three major areas of school life, spiritual, social, and educational, Christians may become possessors of this light. They find that the Word of God is a light unto their path, that they have fellowship together if they walk in the light, and that wisdom gained through study is light. However, they must not keep this light to themselves, but must be as Light Towers, shining forth with the glorious message of the gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ.

SPIRITUAL

CHAPEL, DAY OF PRAYER

Each day holds for the student an opportunity to draw closer to God. One of the times set aside for this is the morning chapel service. Speakers, including pastors, evangelists, missionaries, and faculty members, endeavor to give insight into God's Word and work. Some chapel services are spent in testimony periods or with programs sponsored by the various classes or school organizations.

Once a month time is taken from the morning classes for an extended period of prayer and worship. All students and faculty meet in the auditorium at 8:30 to hear a message and to pray together. Then each student goes to his respective class prayer meeting, later returning to the auditorium for a testimony and praise service. These Days of Prayer uplift and challenge all to a more effective and powerful Christian life.

SPIRITUAL EMPHASIS WEEK

Growth in the grace and knowledge of their Heavenly Father is the desire of all of His children. Spiritual Emphasis Week is dedicated to giving students an opportunity at the beginning of each semester to erase all habits and attitudes that may hinder their spiritual growth, and in place of these, to form new attitudes which will be an asset to their Christian living.

Dr. Ford Philpot spoke during the week of services first semester and showed the pilot film of his proposed television series. The second semester, Dr. Merv Rosell, assisted by Strat Shufelt, vocalist, and Howard Skinner, organist, came to the school for a week of combined services with the First Missionary Church of Fort Wayne.

Student Missionary Fellowship, the largest student organization on the campus, is composed of the entire student body. By presenting the work and needs of various mission fields, SMF challenges hearts and lives to worldwide evangelism.

SMF has a service on alternating Friday nights and meets on the other Fridays during chapel. Daily prayer meeting for the missionaries and supper devotions once a week sponsored by SMF are instrumental in propagating the missionary vision.

In addition, through weekly offerings, the SMF is able to partially support three missionaries: Miss Florence Cavender in South America, Mrs. Arthur Hall in Jamaica, and Mrs. Ronald Sonius in British West Africa.

Packed with spiritual enlightenment concerning missions were the days of November 4-6. The Missionary Conference directed by the Student Missionary Fellowship presented a concentrated missionary challenge.

Missionaries, including Miss Florence Cavender, Mr. Bob Beukena, Rev. Dan Dyck, Miss Agnes Sprunger, and Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Rupp, Sr., addressed classes on subjects dealing with problems faced by missionaries. A skit presented by the student missionary children, and three film showings highlighted the afternoons.

Each day was climaxed by an evening service in which Dr. Paul Smith, pastor of the People's Church in Toronto, Canada, stirred hearts and lives with his timely messages. Students were challenged deeply with the question contained in the theme, "How Will They Hear?"

"WEIGHED IN THE BALANCES--and found wanting," was the theme of the annual Youth Conference held April 29 through May 1. Hundreds of young people flooded the campus for the activities which included an informative open house and tour of the campus, a delicious picnic on South Campus, a Saturday afternoon band concert, and an entertaining and inspiring performance of the play, "A Mighty Fortress."

Throughout the fun, however, the spiritual side of campus life was not forgotten. Bill Zeoti, Youth for Christ Director of Indianapolis, reminded students and guests alike of their needs when weighed in God's balances.

ORATORIO

Oratorio is an outstanding organization in which all students desiring to praise God in singing may take part. This year the chorus is under the direction of Walter J. Kerfoot.

Shortly before Christmas vacation, the chorus presented Handel's "Messiah." Many hearts thrilled to the message presented in this great work. In the spring, "The Seven Last Words of Christ." was presented.

CHRISTIAN SERVICE

Service is a vital part of our Christianity. As Christ told his disciples to go and proclaim the good news, even so the students at Fort Wayne Bible College are given opportunities to proclaim the good news through their Christian Service assignments. Each student may choose his place of assignment or be given one for duty from various fields of work. Types of assignments include Gospel teams, Sunday School teachers, youth and children's workers, music workers, student pastors, Child Evangelism teachers, and mission workers.

The Christian Service Department sends observation reports to churches and pastors to be filled out and returned so that the progress of the students and their work may be kept on file.

STUDENT ASSOCIATION

Student government at Fort Wayne Bible College functions through the Student Association with its executive committee, the Student Council, and five standing committees.

Some of the main purposes of the Association are to foster spiritual growth and fellowship, to assist in providing a well-rounded program of extra-curricular activities, and to provide students opportunities to participate in campus government.

Paul Brennan examining desk lamps for the new Student Association office.

Each year the Association undertakes a project for the improvement of the college facilities. Activities include planning for the three student body banquets, presenting student-conducted chapel services, coordinating intramural sports, assisting in the orientation program for new students, and appointing members to the Light Tower staff.

As a special project over Christmas vacation, the Student Council refurnished the former Light Tower room, making it an office for the use of the Association, the SMF, and the Light Tower Staff.

Many times, on the verge of despair, the Light Tower staff read this motto, "He who labors diligently need never despair; for most things are accomplished by diligence and labor."--Menander These hours of labor and near desperation are now merely memories.

To facilitate the production this year, work was distributed to a larger number of students than in previous years. A spirit of co-operation prevailed, which made the responsibility much lighter for each staff member.

The help of the Delmar representative, Mr. Maclyn MacKay, was invaluable in the planning and preparation of this yearbook.

The Greek letter Alpha, signifying academic achievement, and Kappa, standing for "preaching," suggest development of expression in expounding the Word of God. Membership in the Alpha Kappa Club is open to all students enrolled in Greek courses at the college.

Two of the club's main objectives are to develop ability in using the original language in the preparation of expository sermons and to provide a vehicle of academic, social, and spiritual fellowship.

The club meets once a month to discuss some passage of the Greek New Testament. One project of the club is a $25.00 award to a second or third year Greek student for the best expository sermon based on the Greek text.

Music Club membership is open to all interested students. In pursuing its purpose, the club has attempted to present several types of programs, each planned to show a different phase of the vast field of music. Some of the club's activities have included a lecture preview of Miss Carolyn Pocock's recital; a question and answer period with Rudy Atwood, pianist of the Old Fashioned Revival Hour; and a report on the National Church Music Fellowship convention. The Music Club contributes to the development of well-rounded personalities by encouraging a deeper understanding and enjoyment of music through its activities.

Its monthly meetings, which feature special speakers, entertaining and instructive films, and talks by the members, keep the club busy. Practical experience is gained through the actual operation of cameras and other photographic and projection equipment.

Photographic contests with various themes and spring field trips to points of interest in the area are the highlights of the club's year.

be like a good mirror, the members of Pi Lambda Zeta in their monthly such as creative drama and debate.

They gain practical experience through presenting the college

BAND

Music, whether it be vocal or instrumental, is enjoyed by almost everyone. As the choir satisfies one's wish for vocal music, so the band fulfills the desire for instrumental music.

In the dignity of the Youth Conference concert or in the excitement-filled air of a basketball game, the band, under the leadership of Robert Myers, inspires the audiences on these occasions.

VARSIY BASKETBALL

"T-E-A-M, Yea Team!" This cry rings out as another victory is posted for the Fort Wayne Bible College Ambassadors. Many of the games were nip-and-tuck affairs with the victor undetermined until the final buzzer sounded.

The squad worked hard for Coach Morley; and with this hard work and his leadership, the team represented the Bible College and Jesus Christ well. Besides their active testimony on the court, the squad had the unusual opportunity of singing and giving their testimonies at half-time and of conducting services off the court.

Spartans vs. Olympians

Under the auspices of the Athletic Committee, a more complete and successful intramural program was inaugurated this year at Fort Wayne Bible College.

All students were placed on six teams, men and women competing separately in most activities. Two leaders, a fellow and a girl, were chosen for each team. These twelve students and two faculty members, Coach Morley and Miss Eleanor Rich, composed the Intramural Council, which gave specific direction to the year's program. Football, basketball, volleyball, softball, and a number of individual sports were the activities included in the schedule.

PRESIDENT

Dr. Jared F. Gerig, 1929 graduate from the then Fort Wayne Bible Institute, is serving his third year as President of Fort Wayne Bible College.

Varied experience has developed a keen leadership ability. He has served on the Governing Board of the college, acted as the Dean of the College, and taught. He has also pastored churches and held the position of president of the Missionary Church Association. More than his administrative and promotional leadership, it is Dr. Gerig's spiritual guidance which endears him to Fort Wayne Bible College.

SENIORS

In the light of the hidden horizons that lie before the Senior Class, what greater consolation could be theirs than to know that they are "Anchored in Christ?" As ardent students, they have taken the hammer of the Word of God and have driven their anchor of faith deeper into the solid rock, Jesus Christ. As they embark upon the sea of life, no doubt the raging storms of time will strain the cable of love that binds them to the Rock; but, as this cable remains strong, they stay fastened to the Rock which cannot be moved.

JUNIORS

Each Junior has a goal--to be ready for whatever life may bring as God's workman, equipped for service. Fifty classmates are united through such social activities as the Junior-Senior banquet, class parties, and selling concessions at basketball games.

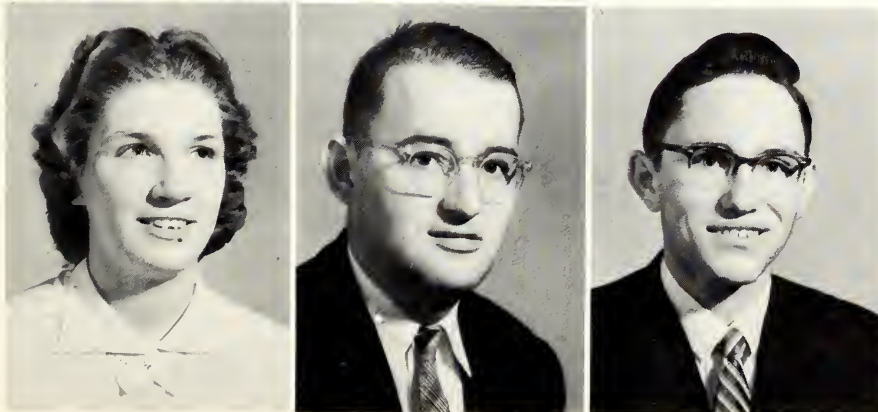

Through stirring prayer meetings, chapel programs, and fellowship, each Junior could add to his spiritual storehouse, receiving more light toward perfection of his goal. Together, the class has tried to live worthy of their motto, "Reflecting His Light."

During times of work, study, and worship, the Juniors have become more and more aware of the responsibility soon to be theirs--to finish their training, perfectly prepared as God's servants.

PRE-JUNIORS

"Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended; but this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before. I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus."--Philippians 3:13-14

The Pre-junior class has chosen this verse as the guide for the year. Their chapel program, in the fall, emphasized some of the practical out-workings of the verse.

Well remembered also are the wonderful times spent together on days of prayer, on Christian service assignments, in intramural sports, and at class parties.

SOPHOMORES

Life is worth living. To the fifty-seven sophomores, living signifies Jesus Christ. This truth is exemplified in the class motto, "For Me to Live Is Christ."

Mark Campbell served as President of the class of 1962 for the second consecutive year. Under his leadership the class was capably directed through its numerous activities.

The class presented food certificates to needy families of the area at the Christmas and Easter seasons in keeping with the spirit of giving: "For God loveth a cheerful giver."

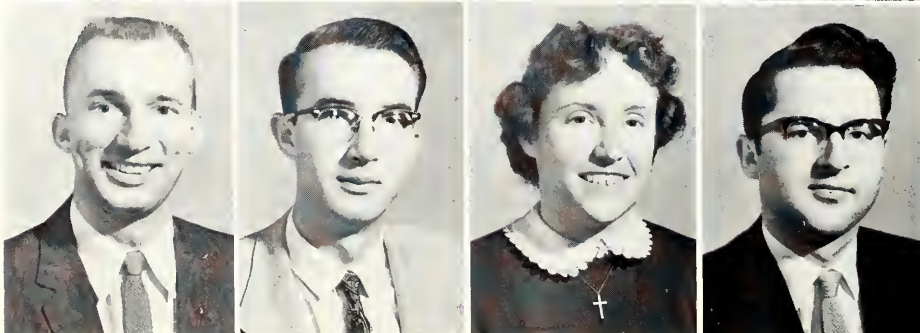

Through all aspects of college life--academic, social and spiritual--the sophomores have proved to themselves that the Christ-centered life is worth living.

"O for a thousand tongues to sing
My great Redeemer's praise.."

Even though the Freshman class does not have one-thousand tongues, they can use their one-hundred tongues to glorify Christ. These tongues tell of the Lord's guidance and presence during their first year at Fort Wayne Bible College.

The class members have found their subjects interesting and challenging. In addition to their academic preparation, they have enjoyed participating in a well-rounded schedule of activities, which include intramural sports, class and school parties, gospel teams, and clubs.

Through their fellowship and study they hope to fulfill their class motto by becoming "More than conquerers."

NURSES

Several of the nurses on campus:
Shirley Beall, Carolyn Derreth,
Yvonne Johnson, Janet Miller,
Grace Shillingsburg.

One of the newest programs at Fort Wayne Bible College is the missionary nursing course operated in co-operation with the Lutheran Hospital. A year of study is taken here at the college, then three years of training at the hospital. The final year the student returns to the college for additional training in Bible and missions.

At the present time there are nine students on campus who have completed their nurses training. These are: Grace Shillingsburg, Ruth Ringenburg, Carolyn Derreth, Margaret Richards, Mary Robbins, Yvonne Johnson, Nancy Sinn, Shirley Beall, and Janet Miller. In training are eleven Students from the college: Janet Cochran, Claudia Bell, first year; Eunice Simmons, Donna Grubb, Patricia Rice, Lola Harmon, Kathy Huffman, second year; Donna Burd, Elizabeth Furman, Karen Fouts, Rebecca Liechty, third year.

do you remember

the year 1921. When the first automatic dial telephone system opened a new era of fast, efficient communications?

did you know

*that in 1921,
the David C. Cook Publishing Company had already been communicating 47 years with the Sunday-school teachers of the United States and Canada . . . providing them with the newest and best materials for teaching the Word of God!*

Just as telephone communication has advanced and improved since 1921 . . . so has the David C. Cook Publishing Company advanced and improved its literature. We have pioneered and developed full-color illustrations and picture stories as effective teaching aids, pupil-centered program materials, time-saving and practical teacher helps, and excellent printing reproduction.

In 1960, we are communicating with more than 60,000 Sunday schools in the United States and Canada . . . providing evangelically sound Bible-teaching, life-related literature in attractive and usable form . . . so that the Word of God might better be taught to tomorrow's members of His church, today.

*Write for free samples of our Sunday-school literature . . .
or ask for them from your Christian bookstore.*
